

1. In 2020, riders are required to wear blaze orange or chartreuse on their torso and head– by Arkansas Law – when they are “in areas where (hunting) seasons are open.” Muzzle loading deer season and youth deer season will be open. This means that the only time you do not have to wear these colors is when in a town. Buy a jersey and a beanie in orange or chartreuse and you will be in compliance with the law.
2. This is a self-supported ultra-biking event. Riders are expected to self-police themselves regarding the rules.
3. “Self-Supported” means that the rider is completing this course solo. No sag van. No food/gear/water caches. No calling a buddy to bring a pizza and beer. No drafting. This rule should not be interpreted to mean that racers are precluded from cooperating with and providing assistance to other racers in the spirit of sportsmanship and descent humanness.
4. Riders should post the mandatory selfies - while on-route – within twelve hours of arriving at the selfie-stop. The selfie checkpoints are listed below.

Mandatory Selfie-Stops

1. Beaver Bridge
2. Boxley Valley
3. Richland Creek Bridge
4. Blanchard Springs
5. Toad Suck
6. Flatside Pinnacle Trailhead
7. Dicks Gap Overlook
8. Queen Wilhelmina State Park
9. Mount Magazine State Park
10. Pilot Rock
11. White Rock Mountain
12. Finish Photo at the Fayetteville Square

 Selfie is loosely defined. Feel free to get an innocent by-stander to snap your picture. You may photograph your steed instead of yourself.

5. The ArHC race will follow the Adventure Cycling Association route of the same name. Riders should contact ACA for maps, GPX files, and phone apps. The race will follow the perimeter – don’t take the cut-off routes. If you have the kahunas, you may ride the singletrack options detailed in the ACA maps.
6. Riders may ride the loop clockwise or counter clockwise.
7. Riders should attend the pre-race meeting on the night before the start.
8. Track Leaders will provide SPOT services. Riders should register on the TrackLeaders website. Riders should attend the pre-race meeting to receive their SPOT and sign a waiver.
9. Riders must have the SPOT running when they are advancing on the course. In the event of SPOT failure through mechanical or user error, the rider will be required to provide a GPS track from their phone or backup GPS unit. Failure to do so can result in disqualification.
10. Pedal. No electric bikes. I can’t believe that I have to put this in the rules.
11. Finishing times and places will be determined by SPOT trackers.
12. Riders may accept spontaneous support from the businesses and/or private citizens along the route. In other words, trail magic is allowed. Family and buddies should refrain from providing support to a rider unless they make the same support available to ALL participants (Trail Angels). No pacers or follow-along-rider-friends. Yogi gifts are legal.

13. Trail Angels should not jump forward on the course to provide continuous assistance for a select group of riders. Riders should refuse help from a trail angel who repeatedly reappears on the course. Trail Angels should stay in one place as long as possible and serve as many riders as possible.
14. Riders may leave the course for medical, mechanical, lodging, & food, but should return to the course at the same point to continue.
